

Live Webinar Event

Presented by the University of Montreal Hospital Center

CANADIAN WOMEN IN EP
 2022 Symposium

Friday, May 27th, 2022
6:30 pm - 8:00 pm EST

Please register here:
<https://bit.ly/3OWUZpM>

Join us for this live and interactive event. Meet Pr Kyoko Soejima, from Tokyo on her experience in EP and Ms. Frédérique Piché, a medical physicist with expertise in radioprotection. Participate in break-out rooms and group discussions. We look forward to you joining us on topics concerning being a woman in the field of electrophysiology!

Dr Isabelle Greiss, MD, FRCPC
Univ. of Montreal Hospital Center
Co-Chair and organizer

Dr RK Sandhu, MD, MPH
Cedars-Sinai medical Center
Co-Chair

Dr Kyoko Soejima, MD
Kyorin University hospital
Presenter

Ms. Frédérique Piché, Physicist
Univ. of Montreal Hospital Center
Presenter

Agenda

Made possible through an educational grant from
Johnson & Johnson

6:30 PM

Welcome

Co-chairs: Drs Isabelle Greiss, MD, FRCPC and Roopinder K. Sandhu, MD, MPH

6:35 PM

Practising EP as a woman: my experience in Japan and North America

Dr Kyoko Soejima, MD, Professor of cardiology and director of the Department of Cardiovascular Medicine, Kyorin University Hospital, Tokyo

Women in the lab, implications of fluoroscopy: risks, radioprotection and pregnancy

Ms. Frédérique Piché, Medical Physicist, Radioprotection Supervisor, University of Montreal Hospital Center

Questions period

7:15 PM

Break-out sessions (one to be chosen upon registration)

1. How can women participation as trialists be increased?
2. How can women in EP achieved more visibility and reach leading positions?
3. For fellows: What are the barriers to be a female fellow in EP and how to overcome them?

7:40 PM

Group discussion on break-out sessions

7:55 PM

Closing remarks